MAJOR
MICHAEL B. HANCOCK

signed this 26th day of September, 2015 certifying this to be the official seal of the city and county of Denver to be used for all purposes.
IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and

"NATIONAL PUBLIC LANDS DAY IN DENVER"

WHEREAS, September 26, 2015, to be known as:
Denver, Colorado, by virtue of the authority vested in me, do hereby officially proclaim September 26 as National Public Lands Day in Denver, Colorado.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, MICHAEL B. HANCOCK, MAJOR and Mayor of Denver, Colorado, do hereby proclaim September 26 as National Public Lands Day in Denver, Colorado, to be observed in Denver, Colorado, on the 26th day of September, 2015.

WHEREAS, the proclamation of National Public Lands Day recognizes the importance of public lands in the United States and promotes public awareness of their significance.

WHEREAS, public lands provide opportunities for recreation, education, and economic development.

WHEREAS, public lands include parks, wildlife management areas, forests, and other natural areas that are vital to the health and well-being of the American people.

WHEREAS, the observance of National Public Lands Day highlights the importance of protecting and preserving our public lands for future generations.

WHEREAS, the observance of National Public Lands Day recognizes the contributions of public lands to the economy, recreation, and cultural heritage of the United States.

Therefore, I, MICHAEL B. HANCOCK, MAJOR and Mayor of Denver, Colorado, do hereby proclaim September 26 as National Public Lands Day in Denver, Colorado, and urge all citizens to participate in activities that celebrate the importance of our public lands.