Paul R. LePage
GOVERNOR

August 26, 2015

Greetings,

I would like to bring awareness to Maine's beautiful public land. It is important to maintain and appreciate these important areas of our great State which include our lakes, rivers, coastline and forests.

Maine's public land attracts residents, as well people from all over the world, with its endless possibilities. This contributes to the local economy, promotes fun, and is an effective form of exercise.

Maine citizens are very proud of our beautiful state and outdoors. I thank everyone who is working hard to maintain our public land for future generations.

Sincerely,

Paul R. LePage
Governor
